

Hi there! I'm Melissa. I'm a passionate and caring nanny currently studying early education with a love for working with kids. While still in school, I've gained hands-on experience babysitting and helping with child care. I can provide references on request. My main availability is week nights and weekends. I look forward to hearing from you!